Foundation Announces Grants to Improve Health

Greater Rochester Health Foundation (GRHF) announced several new grants for the Greater Rochester Community.

A grant of up to $1.2 million between now and the end of 2010 to Westside Health Services will be used for primary medical and dental care for under-served families.

Close to $330,000 has been awarded for Mini-Grants. These grants of $500 to $7,500 have been awarded to more than 40 organizations for programs that increase physical activity and/or improve nutrition of kids ages 2-10 in Monroe County. See www.thegrhf.org for a complete listing.

John Urban, president and CEO of GRHF, says, “A focus of Greater Rochester Health Foundation is to improve the health status of all residents, including people whose unique healthcare needs have not been met because of race, ethnicity or income. The range of these grants reflects the identified needs in our community and we are eager to witness the impact these programs have on making our community healthier.”
